

PRINCE HENRY'S TOUR IS ENDED

He Expresses Himself as Much Pleased with the Trip.

A GREAT COUNTRY

Public Statement Conveys His Gratitude to His Hosts in Many Cities.

START HOME TUESDAY

New York, March 8.—Prince Henry remained in his apartments at the Waldorf-Astoria throughout the forenoon, the natural let down from the excitement of the journey having left him played out. He denied himself to all social and official callers.

He will remain here until Monday when he goes to Philadelphia and on Tuesday he starts home for the Fatherland.

The prince was entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Ogden Mills this afternoon. He was escorted from the hotel to the Mills mansion by a squadron of cavalry and was received in the reception room by the host and hostess, conducted to the dining room and took a seat at the head of the table.

The room was beautifully decorated. Among the guests were Asst. Sec. of State Hill, Gen. Corbin, Admiral Evans, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt and J. P. Morgan.

He was absent from the city for nine days, during which time his special train was within the territory of thirteen states and logged a total distance of 4,358 miles. He was greatly pleased with his trip, and today, through his aid, Captain von Mueller, issued a statement expressing his satisfaction at the opportunity which came to him and his gratification at the cordiality with which he was received throughout the country. Captain von Mueller said:

"His Royal Highness is much pleased with his trip into the interior of the United States. He is fully aware of the fact that he has had only a superficial glimpse of a small portion of the United States, and that he might perhaps have used his time to greater advantage had he remained in one of the larger cities of the East. But he is convinced, nevertheless, that, considering the character of his mission, the trip was the right thing for him to do.

"In making it he has obtained a fair idea of the vastness of the country and its resources, which the capital of the United States and the great commercial centers of the East alone could not have given him.

"But more than this impression he values the hearty welcome which he met in all the places he went through, a welcome that showed him how the people of the United States everywhere understood and appreciated the intention of the German Emperor in sending him here."

SECURED A SPECIAL LICENSE TO MARRY

Miss Susie Larson and Timothy Ward, Residing in Town of Spring Valley, Wedded.

Yesterday afternoon Justice Chas. W. Reeder spoke the words that joined in life's most solemn obligation two happy hearts applied to Judge Elford for a special marriage license and the genial Judge granted the request.

The couple armed with the necessary papers wended their way to the office of the obliging justice and asked that he tie a good matrimonial knot for them, which he did in his most genial manner and when they left the office they were man and wife. The bride is a resident of the town of Plymouth and her name was Miss Susie Larson. The groom was Timothy Ward and resides in the town of Spring Valley.

The witnesses to the ceremony joined in wishing that the happy couple in their future voyage of life, may encounter nothing worse than little "squalls."

ELLSWORTH'S BODY EXHUMED.

Autopsy Reveals Eight Bullet Wounds on Corpse.

Woodstock, Ill., March 8.—In the Ellsworth case there were new developments Friday. The attorneys for the state, assisted by Doctors Maxon and Goddard of Harvard, Dr. Doolittle of this city and a surgeon from Hebron, exhumed the body of A. W. Anderson, the aged victim of the tragedy, on the demand of one of his brothers from Glend, Pa., and an autopsy was held, which revealed the fact that there were eight bullets in his body, six in his head and two in his breast, and the direction they took after entering all indicate that he was struck while in a reclining position. Attorneys construe this as indicating that Earl Ellsworth may have had a hand in the shooting.

Hong Kong, March 8.—The Kwang rebellion is spreading. The trials of the members of the secret society joined the rebels who are burning and looting villages. At Kailchow the garrison was overpowered and the prisoners released.

JUDGE PERELES IS NOT ELIGIBLE

Governor Will Make Another Appointment as Varsity Regent to Fill Judge Noyes' Place.

Madison, March 8.—Governor La Follette will have to make another appointment to fill the vacancy on the board of regents caused by the expiration of the term of Judge George H. Noyes of this city. It was announced from Madison last night that the governor had appointed Judge J. M. Pereles of this city to succeed Judge Noyes. This was done without consultation with Judge Pereles, to whom the appointment came in the nature of a complete though pleasant surprise.

Now it is found that Judge Pereles resides in the same district as Dr. Frisbie, the woman member of the board of regents, who was appointed from the fourth congressional district. The law provides that the board shall consist of one member from each congressional district, with two from the state at large. The two regents at large are Colonel William F. Vilas of Madison and Former Governor Geo. W. Peck of this city. This leaves the governor no course to pursue but to recall the appointment and make a new one.

NEW YORK SETS THE PRICE OF EGGS

Has Resumed Activity, and the Value of Eggs Has Gone Down—The Black Year.

There is a tradition in some sections of the country that along in the eighties eggs were selling at sixty cents a dozen. "The black year," they called it, and to many no doubt it was properly named. It was then that the man with an ingenious turn of mind said he could produce eggs by artificial means, but, like the schemes of the man who was to create life-stakes by the aid of electricity, his promise was never fulfilled.

It may be possible to produce a chemical preparation enclosed in a shell resembling an egg which may have something of the taste and no doubt certain nourishment, but it will never be an egg. Nature has never suffered an infringement upon its rights in the way of counterfeits, and the ingenuity of man is limited.

A short time ago during this eventful period of eggs which we have just passed through, or in modified form, are still passing, eggs were forty cents a dozen and more. Liverpool sets the price for grain but New York sets the price for eggs. Recently when jobbers were selling eggs at thirty-seven cents the grocers were demanding forty and forty-five cents a dozen, and still the supply was not equal to the demand.

No one was "cornering" the market—holding the eggs for a higher price. It was simply a question of scarcity. The supplies in the cold storage warehouses became exhausted and the famine set in. The snow storms prevented the hens from scratching for a living and man was consequently left to scratch along as best he could. He did it with language marked by points of exclamation.

About one-eight of a million cases of eggs, having thirty dozen to the case are stored in Kansas City every year and about 600,000 cases in Chicago. These are kept for winter use. Eggs are bought for storage in April, May and June and should the weather be cool enough July eggs may also be used for that purpose. This supply remains in cold storage until November or December when it is offered for sale.

The weather was so warm in July last year that the eggs then laid could not be used for daily consumption and so the supply in the cold storage rooms was resorted to, and that which was intended for winter use was lessened. Then last spring eggs were high—higher than usual—and most of those that found their way to the cold storage rooms cost twelve or fifteen cents a dozen. The owners sold them at a small profit fearing afraid to hold them any longer, as a milder spring might set in, they feared, and the hens would increase the supply.

The result of all this was that by the first of January the storage houses were nearly exhausted, the hen could not follow her scratching instincts, the source of supply was cut off, the law of supply and demand went into force and high prices stared the people in the face to such an extent that only millionaires could expect to live in comfort.

Since the hen has resumed activity owing to this warm and balmy March weather the fruit of her industry has dropped to 13 cents per dozen and by the time Easter comes around, they will not bring more than 10 or 12 cents per dozen.

ALL APPEAR TO BE IN GOOD CONDITION

Annual Report of the Building and Loan Associations of Wisconsin Just Made.

Madison, Wis., March 8.—(Special)—The annual report of the building and loan associations of Wisconsin, just completed for the year ended Dec. 31 last, show that the amount of business being handled by these associations in the state aggregate about $3,500,000. All appear to be in a healthy condition, according to Deputy Bank Organizer G. D. Bartz. The aggregate figures are: Resources, $3,462,629.73; Liabilities, $3,462,629.73.

Another Term For Cooper

He Will Not Have Much Trouble Securing a Nomination.

BABCOCK IN THIRD

He is Very Anxious to Go In Again Without Any Opposition.

STRANGE IS HUSTLING

The action of the congressional committee of the Third congressional district in calling an early convention in that district presages early conventions in all of the Congressional districts in the state.

It is likely that before the close of June the conventions will have been held in all of the Congressional districts except the Fourth and Fifth where undoubtedly they will not be held until after the Milwaukee county caucuses for the election of delegates to the state convention so that the congressional delegates may be elected at the same time.

Another Term For Cooper

In the First District the candidacy of Mr. Yule of Kenosha is not cutting very much of a figure at this writing and it begins to look as if "Congressman" Hal Cooper was not going to have any very considerable amount of trouble in securing a renomination in this district. Mr. Cooper has made a remarkable record during his term of service in congress in water his constituents take great pride. His constituents take no question of his triumphal renomination and re-election.

May Not Oppose Babcock

Whether Congressman Babcock will be opposed for a renomination cannot yet be said. State Treasurer James Davidson of Soldier's Grove is stated to be seriously considering entering the field as a congressional candidate and if he does he would undoubtedly be a very strong candidate. If Mr. Davidson does not come out as a candidate it is likely that Congressman Babcock will be unopposed as it does not now look as if any other candidate would come out in the district. He is very anxious to get the nomination without a battle and his coming back to the state early next month is said to be with the idea of so building his fences that he will not have opposition. While so far the Third district call is the only one which has been issued it is said that it will be only a few days before the call for the new Ninth district will be out.

Hard Fight on Against Minor

In the Ninth district the work against Minor is being pushed rapidly and already the county delegations to the convention are being picked and preparations made for an active fight. It looks as if Congressman Minor was to have a good hard run in this district as already Brown county is out with a strong candidate in the person of Samuel H. Cadv while Oconto county's candidate, William H. Ellis, is pushing out in the other counties of the district and the indications are he will have a good strong following from Marinette and possibly from Florence counties.

John Strange is Hustling

While this is the situation in the Ninth district, John Strange is getting a good hard hustle on himself in the Eighth district and at the present moment he looks very much as if he might go into the convention with more delegates than Congressman Davidson. The latter, because of Strange's well-known La Follette proclivities, is making a hard fight for a solid stalwart support in the district, and one of the objects of the visit of Attorney White there the other day was to prevent any other stalwart candidates appearing in the district.

Webb Brown is Unopposed

So far there have been no aspirants for the nomination in the Tenth district to appear against Webb Brown, and from present indications he will have a clear field, although there are rumors of possible candidates from Ashland and Marathon counties to add zest to the battle here.

No Fight on in the Seventh

John J. Esch will have a clear field in the Seventh district, while there is certain to be a candidate out against Congressman Jenkins in the Eleventh district, although who the candidate will be, except that it will be a Superior man, cannot be said. Rumor has it, however, that Senator E. G. Mills may be the candidate, put forward by Douglas county.

DAIRYING SCHOOL SUMMER TERM

Students Are Admitted to This Course Any Time Hereafter.

IS FOR BEGINNERS

Offers an Excellent Opportunity for Obtaining Practical Dairy Knowledge.

PROCESS OF SCHOOL

Madison, Wis., March 8.—A summer term has been added to the instruction given at the Wisconsin Dairy school. Students are admitted to this course at any time during the spring and summer after March 1st, 1902. They are expected to remain at least ten weeks although they may continue the work longer if desired. No previous experience in dairy work is required for admission to this course which is intended for beginners or for persons with little practical knowledge of creamery or dairy work. While some lectures will be given, nearly all of the students' time will be occupied in the work of the various departments under the supervision of the instructors. Quizzes and examinations will be held to determine the progress being made by the students.

Students Will Assist

From seven to ten thousand pounds of milk are received daily at the Wisconsin Dairy School. This is used for making creamery butter and for pasteurizing milk and cream sold to consumers.

Students will assist in the different factory operations and learn to operate the various machines used in the manufacturing processes. They are the first taught to receive, inspect and sample the supply of milk delivered from the one hundred or more farms of our creamery patrons. A part of this milk is then run through the milk heaters to the power cream separators, the cream is ripened, churned and the butter made and packed by the modern process and machinery used for these purposes.

A Practical Knowledge

Another portion of the milk and cream is taken to the pasteurizing room where the modern methods of pasteurizing and bottling these products for consumers are taught. The shop for dairy machinery instruction is also open to summer dairy students here they are taught the construction of common creamery engines, belt lacing, tin soldering, boiler firing, etc. A ten ton artificial refrigerating plant has recently been added to the equipment of the dairy school and this will be in operation during the summer.

The summer dairy school offers an excellent opportunity for obtaining a practical knowledge of the machines and processes now in use in different lines of modern dairying.

A fee of $10 is charged residents of Wisconsin; students from other states pay $25 fees. A deposit of $2 is made by all students to cover possible breakage and loss of key to locker. This may be returned to the student when he leaves the school if no loss or breakage has been charged to him. Students usually secure rooms and table board in the neighborhood of the Dairy Building at about $4 per week.

NEW SLEEPERS FOR THE ST. PAUL ROAD

The Railroad Adds Eight Monster and Elegant New Cars for Its Equipment.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul has determined to make its early evening Chicago train, No. 2, leaving Minneapolis 5:25 p. m. and St. Paul 6 p. m., second only to the Pioneer Limited in point of equipment.

The Pullman company has just built for the St. Paul eight sleeping cars, which will be put into the St. Paul Chicago service on that train. These sleepers are models in every particular, and in finish and upholstery are especially beautiful. They are among the most expensive cars constructed.

The names selected for these cars are of Indian origin—Minnehaha, Marquette, Tomah, Calumet, Nokomis, Eweya, Nipahwin and Ojibway. The cars are unusually massive in build. The St. Paul road operates its own sleepers and they are built with reference only to tunnels and bridges on that line rather than for general use throughout the United States.

The expenditure is about $150,000 for this additional equipment.

Hoard's Condition is Better

Chicago, Ill., March 8.—Ex-Governor Hoard's son, F. W. Hoard, who is at the Garfield Park sanitarium for treatment, is reported as being in a comfortable condition. He entered the institution two days ago, and while the physicians have not completed their diagnosis they do not apprehend any serious complications. "Rest is what he needs more than anything else," said the house physician this morning.

New York, March 8.—The steamship Etruria has not yet been heard from by the Cunard officials, as announced this morning.

DR. FENGER DEAD: FAMOUS SURGEON

Chicago Physician Passed Away—Reputation as a Pathologist Extended Beyond the United States.

Chicago, March 8.—Dr. Christian Fenger died at his home, 269 La Salle avenue, at 9:45 o'clock last night of pleuro-pneumonia. He had been ill little more than a week, but twenty-four hours before his death his physicians despaired of saving his life. Dr. Fenger was at his office, 100 State street, Feb. 28. During the day he contracted a severe cold. He went home late in the afternoon and went to bed.

Pneumonia developed in the left lung and the patient became steadily worse. Dr. Frank Billings, Dr. Harry B. Favill, and Dr. John B. Herrick were in attendance. Thursday Dr. Fenger sank into unconsciousness, remaining so until his death.

As a pathologist, Dr. Fenger held one of the foremost places in the United States and had few equals in the world. He was one of the three greatest surgeons of this country and had an international reputation for skill and judgment of his operations.

NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM LINE CITY

Ten Cases of Smallpox in the City, in a Moderate Form—College Musical Clubs.

Beloit, Wis., March 8.—The Senior "Preps" of the Academy had a banquet and a glorious time in Odd Fellows hall Thursday evening.

Dr. Humlin, who has charge of the smallpox cases is authority for the statement that never in his experience did he ever see smallpox in such a modified form as is now evidenced in the ten cases in this city, but one of them has been confined to a bed.

The college musical clubs of the season of 1902 are now holding final rehearsals preliminary to the first concert which occurs at Delavan, March 20 and promises to be an event of great importance in socialdom. The itinerary of the clubs for the season includes some twelve concerts.

Officer Frank Walrod was examined by the board of police and fire commissioners Thursday on charges preferred by Chief of Police Appleby. After a score of witnesses had been examined the board's findings were that he charges had not been sustained and the officer was reinstated.

The Molders' strike at the Fairbanks, Morse plant is still unsettled. All sorts of stories can be heard but facts are meagre. It is a very bad thing for the city and if prolonged may lead to worse things.

The pulp committee of the Second Congregational church had a meeting Thursday and extended a call to the Rev. Royal B. Cheney, college class of '91, to become pastor of the church to succeed the Rev. W. W. Sleeper, who recently resigned to go to Wellsley, Mass. Mr. Cheney after graduating in Beloit took a theological course and had a pastorate in Ohio. Of recent years he has been connected with a Minneapolis paper. He has considerable fame as an evangelist and singer and is popular wherever he is known, and both himself and wife are already quite well known in Beloit.

Mr. O'Neill and Thomas O'Neill of Vankton, S. D., are in the city to try and help their brother locate his wife who ran away with James Kelso, the insurance agent.

STILL FIGHTING THE MERGER.

Minnesota Will Appeal Direct to Congress for Aid.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 8.—Attorney General Douglas has appealed to Congress in the Northern Securities case. With the backing of the Minnesota legislature, which voted approval of his course, and of the Minnesota delegation in both branches of Washington, he hopes for an amendment to the judicial acts which will change the anomalous position in which Minnesota is now placed.

The decision in the Northern Securities case shuts out the state completely from redress in the federal courts. The court lays down the rule that a state cannot sue a citizen or another state where citizens of the plaintiff state are necessary parties.

Attorney General Douglas has written two members of the Minnesota delegation, Senator Nelson and Representative Stevens. He has asked them individually to look after the matter and it is probable that they will introduce a bill in both branches amending the judiciary act to meet the new conditions.

This will not help Minnesota in the Northern Securities case, but the state is not without redress. Action will be taken against the Great Northern in the state courts in the shape of a quo warranto looking to the forfeiture of the company's charter.

Washington, March 8.—Attorney General Knox has put the finishing touches to the petition to dissolve the merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railway companies. According to present plans the suit will be filed next week in the United States Circuit court at St. Paul, and will be expedited through the Circuit Court of Appeals, and then to the Supreme Court at Washington.

ED. L. LUCKOW IS RE-ELECTED

Baraboo Man Continues as President of Press Association.

URGEMAIL REFORM

Badger Editors Adopt Strong Resolutions Regarding Second Class Matter.

END OF THE SESSION

Milwaukee, March 8.—After so much social dissipation the members of the State Press association were slow in getting around yesterday for the final session. The ranks to be thinned somewhat by merrymaking or editors who could remain no longer away from their work. After the convention settled down to business it elected the following officers:

President—Edward L. Luckow, Baraboo.
Secretary—O. F. Roessler, Jefferson.

Treasurer—Mrs. M. P. Rindlaub, Platteville.

Vice Presidents Elected

Messrs Luckow and Roessler were re-elected. Mrs. Rindlaub succeeds Mrs. Flora B. Ginty, who has held the office for many years, but had to retire on account of failing eyesight. The association expressed its appreciation of Mrs. Ginty's work by voting her $20 and accompanying it with resolutions of thanks. The list of officers were completed by the election of the following vice presidents: James E. Nethercut of Lake Geneva, C. L. Hubbs, Lake Mills; E. T. Wheelock of Oconomowoc; Edwin Kurlburt of Oconomowoc; Mrs. Adeline King, Milwaukee; Miss Alletta D. Goodhue, Trempealeau; C. H. Slocum, Ormoo; Edward Decker, Jr., Algoma; R. E. Powers, Wausau; and H. S. Fairall of Superior.

The Executive Committee

President Luckow announced the appointment of the following executive committee: E. D. Coe, Whitewater; C. A. Booth Milwaukee; P. H. Swift, Rice Lake; Judge Samuel Ryan, Appleton; George W. Nellis, Jr., LaCrosse.

Addresses were made during the day by Henry E. Rothe of Fennimore, Miss Alletta D. Goodhue, publisher of the Trempealeau Herald, and Durt Williams of Ashland. Superintendent Harvey appeared before the convention and made short speech, urging the change in the election of the state superintendent at the same time the judicial elections are held in the spring.

Second Class Mail Matter.

At the afternoon session the convention declared strongly against abuses of the privileges granted by the Postoffice Department in regard to second-class mail matter, and on motion of E. D. Coe, passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Wisconsin Press association, in annual session at Milwaukee, March 7, 1902, urges the Wisconsin delegation in congress to earnestly exert its influence to promote the postal reforms, especially a correction of the abuses in regard to second class matter advocated in the last report of Postmaster General Smith and pressel upon the attention of congress by President Roosevelt in his first message to that body. This association believes that the inauguration of these reforms will:

1. At once convert the annual postal deficit, which ranged in the past few years from $3,000,000 to $15,000,000 annually, into a surplus.

2. Cleanse the mails of a vast amount of the impure matter with which they are now weighed.

A third effect of the proposed reforms was related in the resolutions as originally presented. It was that the reforms would hasten the day of penny letter postage. It was stricken out.

BROKEN RAIL WRECKS TRAIN

Cars Piled Against the Engine Are Consumed by Fire.

FORTY PERSONS MAY BE DEAD

Accident Occurs Near Sanderson, Texas. While Train Is Making Up Time Over Rough Grades with Sharp Curves—Many Are Crushed.

San Antonio, Texas, March 8.—Racing at a terrific pace over rough grades to make up two and a half hours' lost time, the Southern Pacific train which left this city at noon Thursday struck a broken rail near Maxon, twenty-five miles west of Sanderson, at 3 o'clock Friday morning and was destroyed.

It is feared that the list of dead may reach forty. That is the number of passengers and crew not accounted for, and survivors say when they left the wreck was burning furiously, with no hope of getting out alive any of the injured still in the debris. The following are known to be dead:

A. L. Boone, Estavon Contreras, child of D. E. Housen of Racine, Wis., Chris Klef, Al Mast, W. W. Price, three children of Mart Riddle of Chetopa, Kan., Andrew C. Shelly, wife and child, Mr. and Mrs. White of Manitowish, Wis., and H. Bertscholst.

Among the more seriously injured are:

W. R. Adams, Craig Battleman, Antonio Elrio, J. Fuller, W. S. Glenn, Charles H. Hoy, Mrs. Mary Koehler, Mrs. Mitchell, George Ollenburg, Mrs. E. M. Sheppard, A. S. Turner, Mrs. Annie Werthorst.

In addition at least fifteen others received injuries. The road at the point where the wreck occurred is in a rough country, the curves being sharp and the grades heavy. It was when rounding a curve that the train left the track. All the passengers were asleep and the shock that followed was the first intimation they had of the danger.

The train was going at such a rate of speed that the tender and engine landed seventy-five feet from where they left the rails. The cars behind piled up against the engine, caught fire and all were consumed except the sleepers.

A private car owned by Thomas Ryan of New York, with his family aboard, was attached to the rear of the train, but it was pulled away before the fire reached it, and no one in it was injured.

All the injured in the coaches just behind the express and baggage cars were cremated. The people in the sleepers were saved with the assistance of the uninjured passengers.

The smoker and day coaches were crowded with wounded when the flames burst out, and very few of those inside escaped. Those who did escape say they saw several persons pinned in the cars, slowly burning to death.

The wrecked train was the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio west-bound passenger No. 9, and consisted of an engine, mail car, baggage car, one coach, one chair car, three tourist sleepers, one Pullman sleeper and one private car.

The mail car, the baggage car and coaches were piled together against the engine and were ablaze in a few seconds. It was impossible to move any of the coaches or the tourist cars, as they were all off the rails and they were soon consumed.

As soon as it was possible to get in communication with the division headquarters relief trains with surgeons and physicians were started from El Paso, Del Rio and Sanderson, picking up along the line all the surgeons that could be found. All of the injured who were in a condition to be moved were sent to El Paso.

Arrest Alleged Wife Poisoner.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 8.—William Klumpp, husband of the Lowell, Mich., woman who was poisoned by alleged "headache powders," which were found to contain strychnine, was arrested and is in jail here. The officers believe that Klumpp either sent the deadly powders through the mail himself or knew who did send them and that the main object was the removal of Mrs. Klumpp. The theory is that the doctored powders were substituted for the real headache and harmless powders and sent to several persons in the village for the purpose of throwing the blame upon the manufacturers of the remedy and thus divert suspicion from the sender of the poison.

Fire at Dublin, Ind., Extinguished. Dublin, Ind., March 8.—Fire which threatened to destroy this town was brought under control this morning by the local and Cambridge City departments. The heaviest loss is the Hatfield Furniture company, whose plant was destroyed. The total loss will not exceed $5,000.

TRIHEY OF MONTREAL ON PLAYING HOCKEY.

Expert Captain of Shamrocks Tells How to Play the Popular Game.

Captain Harry Trihey of the famous Shamrock hockey team of Montreal gives some good advice to ambitious players of the great Canadian national game, which has become very popular in all parts of the United States.

Speaking of the game in general, Trihey says:

"Hockey players cannot pay too much attention to shooting and checking. They should embrace all the opportunities they can get to play actual matches, and even if the games are a little rough it will not do them any harm. In getting a team ready the men should play against one another as much as possible.

"Good and systematic training is a necessity. It is in the last few minutes of a match that the training tells. One of the best object lessons of this can be found in the result of the Shamrock's matches for the Stanley cup. Our opponents were the better trained; hence they were enabled to win out at the last few minutes of the decisive struggle for the cup."

In regard to "shooting" Trihey says: "Undoubtedly the most important quality for a hockey player is to be a good shot, for, no matter how fast or finished players the forward line may be, the team will never amount to much unless they are good shots.

"Every one of the forwards should be exceptionally good at this if for nothing else than to allow the opposing team to realize that all the shooting in the game has to be done by one man, because then a little persistent attention paid by them to that man would nullify all the possibility of scoring. To be a first class forward a man should be able to shoot both sides and from any position. To my mind the most dangerous shot is a swift drive about ankle high. Judging from my own experience, that is about the hardest shot to stop. A shot that necessitates too much angle from the side is not advisable, though the average side shot is preferable to a straight one.

"It is very important for every player from goal milder out to be a good checker. There are, of course, two ways of checking, one for the man and one for the puck. If, for instance, an opposing forward is coming down accompanied by another of his team and you have some one to stand by you and take care of the second man, the thing is to check the man, but if you are alone, and it is pretty certain that if you check the man he will pass the puck to the other fellow, check for the puck by all means.

"A good lifter is one of the strongest points of a team. For instance, if the other side relieves the goal by sending the puck away and if the cover point can lift it back quickly, he not only relieves his own side, but keeps the other side constantly on the go. A good lifter can often win a game. It is a mistake to imagine that goals scored by lifts are flukes. Well, our cover point, I know, can put the puck in by a lift almost any time he wishes to do so. A man who lifts for goal keeps the opposite side rattled, but it is by no means good and advisable to lift all the time. For one thing, it never does to lift if your own forwards are on the line with you or behind you. Then there is a clear sheet for the other cover point to lift the puck back.

"It is very important," Trihey continues, "to face properly and even more important to have a proper formation of the forwards, so that the position of the puck on the face will result in a good shot on goal and possibly a score. Our team has won a good many games on that account.

"Goal keeping is a most important part of the game. My advice to young goal keepers is, keep your eye on the puck and never mind the man."

Year's First Polo Tourney.

H. L. Herbert, chairman of the Polo association, has announced that it has been decided to hold the annual spring tournament of the Lakewood (N. J.) Polo club a little earlier this year, so that the men who are to play in the international cup contest in England will be able to take part in the more important Lakewood events. The tournament will begin Monday, April 14.

Says Philippine War Is Dying.

Manila, March 8.—Acting Governor Wright says the provinces of Morong and Rizal were never more peaceful than they are now and that the recent disturbances were entirely due to the influence of insurrectionists who had been driven from Laguna and Batangas provinces. From conversations which he has had with Gen. Bell and others Mr. Wright feels satisfied that the insurrection is dying out.

Widow Robbed of $20.

Menominee, Mich., March 8.—Berger Gjelsten was arrested, charged with stealing $20 from Mrs. O. M. Hansen while sitting up with the corpse of her husband. Not long ago, it is alleged, he attempted to make away with funds of the Spanish war veterans, while acting treasurer, but was caught at the depot.

Navigation Opened.

Just a Glimpse of a Woman's Face.

Just a glimpse of a woman's face is often all that is needed to tell the story of her daily suffering. No woman can endure for long the pangs of womanly diseases without falling off in face and form. Women who have been cured of womanly diseases by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, frequently refer with pleasure to the gain in appearance as well as in feelings, which has come with their cure.

"Favorite Prescription" cures irregularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence treated as sacredly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Your medicines have done me so much good I feel like a different woman," writes Mrs. Mary Murphy of Milton, Kentucky. "Six months ago I began to think I would not see another winter, but had made up my mind to follow your advice and give Dr. Pierce's medicines a thorough trial. I have taken six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' six of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' four of 'Dr. Pierce's Pink Pills,' and four of 'Smart-Weed.' Also some 'Laxative' pills. I have gained five pounds since last August. I will tell the good news to all suffering invalids, for it was a 'Heavenly medicine' to me when I found out what to do for relief."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitutes for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

The People's Medical Adviser, 1003 pages, free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered edition, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Changhaled.

We are familiar with the word "shaughal," knowing that to be "shaughaled" is to be rendered insensible and shipped for a cruise by persons desiring to obtain fraudulently any advance money offered by agents. To be "Changhaled" is to be held up and interrogated impudently, as Li Hung Chang had a habit of treating those whom he met in foreign lands. You might call it "Li-hung-changhaled," but "Changhaled" is ample. Lexicographers, editorial departments of all dictionaries, take notice!—New York Press.

Passes for Italian Congressmen.

Italy's congress is composed of two bodies, but in the lower house there are 508 members, chosen by the people, while the senate does not consist of a fixed number, varying from 200 to 300. The Italian senators are chosen by the king and hold office for life. There is no pay for any of the national legislators and all they get in recognition of their office is free transportation on the railroads.

Electrical Enterprises Are Great.

The amount of capital invested in electrical enterprises reaches stupendous totals—$250,000,000 in telegraphy, $400,000,000 in telephones, $750,000,000 in electric lighting, and $2,000,000,000 in electric railways, or a grand total of not less than $1,000,000,000 in electrical industries in this country alone, and an employment roll of 500,000 people.

Cranks Haunt National Capitol.

There are probably more cranks in Washington than in any other city in the world. Most of them are harmless and are never molested by the police, but they are often a nuisance to strangers. One of them is an old man from the south who believes that the late Jefferson Davis was the greatest man that ever lived. He haunts the corridors of the capitol looking for reporters and correspondents, to whom he desires to tell stories about Davis.

HE NOW HEARS.

Mr. C. J. BUGH, A WELL KNOWN CITIZEN, DEAF FOR SEVERAL YEARS, CAN NOW HEAR A WHISPER.

Can Now Hear an Ordinary Conversation—A Letter that Smashes all Incredulity—Cure follows cure in Quick Succession. Under the Miraculous Treatment of the Boy Phenomenon that Unlocks Impaired Hearing.

The phenomenal cures accomplished by animal magnetism, administered through the Boy Phenomenon, who has an abundance of that vital fluid, continues to attract crowds to his office, and to excite the greatest interest all over the city. While some of these stories of cures seem too wonderful to believe the most conservative versions stop very little short of miracles.

What lends an air of truthfulness to the report of these cures is the fact that the names and addresses of persons cured have been published, and everyone of them have been well-known citizens whose veracity could not be doubted.

One of the most remarkable cures accomplished since his arrival in Janesville was that of a well-known citizen, Mr. C. J. Bugh, 103 W. Bluff St., who has been a resident of Janesville for years, and, as is generally known, has been very deaf. He was treated on the public stage at the Opera House and the next morning was astonished to hear his clock striking, then he heard voices, and before the day was over he readily heard an ordinary conversation. He has had one treatment since and his hearing is daily improving. He was so overjoyed at the great benefits derived that he wrote the following personal letter to the Boy Phenomenon. It speaks for itself and shows that those who have chronic ailments the rapidity and permanency of a cure by vital magnetism.

This letter is published to show that when results are obtained they are permanent.

Boy Phenomenon: This is to the whole world. I have been treated by the Boy Phenomenon and can say after two treatments for my hearing and ringing noises in my head that my hearing is much improved and my head is perfectly clear. I cannot speak too highly of the Boy's work. I can now hear a whisper.

C. J. BUGH.

The Boy Phenomenon not only treats such diseases as the above, but nearly all chronic diseases yield to animal magnetism at the hands of this phenomenal magnetist.

While he remains in Janesville several weeks longer no new cases will be taken after two weeks. Therefore those who wish to take advantage of the presence here of this remarkable healer should lose no time to avail themselves of this golden opportunity which may never occur again. For the benefit of those who cannot call during the day on account of their work or business, office hours at Hotel Myers will be extended from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

WHAT HE EARNS. NO MORE.
 Gazette readers will be interested in the following lay sermon, from the pen of H. W. Tilton, editor of the Council Bluffs Nonpareil. The judge referred to was the late Judge Conger and the little incident was characteristic of the man:

I do not ask for gifts from God or men.
 I do not pray
 That I may have special favors when
 I look out on the day
 And go to the tasks to me assigned
 I do not hope to find
 Beside my door
 Men's servants bearing unearned gifts to me;
 I ask that my rewards may be
 What I shall earn—no more.
 I do not ask that, when my work is done,
 And I shall pass on to that other shore,
 Rich stories which I have not fairly won,
 May there be mine. Nay, I implore,
 No favor from hands human or divine;
 I ask but that which I deserve be mine—
 No more.

—S. B. Kiser.
 Pretty, isn't it? But think a bit. Isn't it one of those songs which bring harmony to the heart? Who wants to receive just what he earns and no more? None but a poet, and he only when he is singing—not when he is working. Such a philosophy would rob life of many of its joys by day and many of its dreams by night and leave it a mere matter of dreary hating and musty bookkeeping. It would make life humdrum if our blessings were weighed out to us with the exactness of the grocer weighing sugar, giving not an ounce more than we paid for. Why life wouldn't have even the fleeting pleasure of a bargain counter with its mingling of expectations and disappointments. The old highway would become a monotonous and dusty level and the beauty of the sunlit mountain top inspiring us to climb and of the green valley wooing us to rest would be gone.
 Life would be flat indeed.

Talk about earning! How much of that which a man gets is really earned by him? Many a man never pays from his earnings, for even the cradle with which he starts in life nor the coffin with which he ends it. In the nursery there is wrapped about him the garments of other's weaving and when the end comes there is placed on the mound the flowers of other's sowing, and along the way between he has been feasting on the fruit of trees which the labor of others has planted and their tears watered. Talk about earning one's way through the world! He couldn't if he would. He wouldn't if he could.

The old judge was mad. A careless delivery boy had hitched a horse to one of the trees he loved so well, and the bark had been frightfully gnawed. The boy's employer, a very wealthy merchant, sought in a personal interview with the old judge to settle the matter and offered to pay him whatever damages he might name. Then the old judge was madder than before.

"You pay for that tree," growled the old judge as his eyes snapped fire and his tongue added some very scriptural words in a very unsentimental manner. "You think you're rich and I suppose you are, but let me tell you that you are a double blank fool if you think that with all your money you can pay for what it took God Almighty twenty years to make."

The old judge was not justified in his profanity but he was justified in his philosophy. Talk about a man earning his own way through the world and being content with receiving only what he is entitled to by his own work! Why if he couldn't pay for one of the judges shade trees how in the world could he ever earn enough to pay for the protecting roof which christian civilization by the labor of centuries has placed over his head or for the pathways of peace and plenty which the generations now gone have by their toil made easy for his feet to walk in, or for the conveniences and comforts which tired brains now resting thought out for him. He cannot pay for these no matter what his earnings. Were he to receive only that his wages will buy he would be roaming the dense forests and the unploughed plains—a mere animal. No there may be poetry in this theory of life which falls with a pleasant jingle on the ear, but there is in it no melody for the heart.

The laugh of a child and the warm pressure of the little arms about your neck—can you fix a value on these any easier than on the judge's shade tree? Perhaps you prize them more now that the laugh is hushed and those arms are no longer felt. But fix such price marks on the offerings of love as you will, how long would it take you to really earn them, and would you want to wait for them until you reached the far-off pay day, or would you want to do without them could you not earn them? Who ever could earn enough to pay for what she did whose face is now only a memory but whose eyes seem ever watching you in loving tenderness, or that blessing of sainted father which has hovered above your pathway like a dove of peace leading you on to safety, or the confiding loyalty of wife or the loving protection of husband, or the cheer of the fireside which brightens most with love when shadows deepest grow?

The loving Father knew best when he planned for his children to receive more than they could possibly earn. With the hand of loving prodigality he flung into the heavens more stars than Hise children can ever count and scattered the earth with more flowers than they can ever gather. He crowded the caverns with more coal than they could ever burn and more gold than they can ever spend. He bade them work while it is yet day for the night cometh when no man can work, but for the toll of day he showers thousands of blessings beyond possibilities of the mightiest of the sons of men to earn, and for the night he promises thousands of other blessings beyond the possibilities of the mightiest of the sons of men to picture even in their dreams.

STRENGTH OF THE CHURCHES.
 Statistics gathered by the Christian Advocate show the following results for the year 1901.

The total number of communicants in all the churches of America is 28,690,637.

The Roman-Catholics lead with 5,158,741 members and 11,491 churches.
 The Methodists are second, with 4,966,500 communicants and 56,101 churches.

The Baptists have a membership of 4,581,558 with 51,001 churches.
 The Lutherans have 1,696,268 members and show a gain of 36,101 during the year.

The Presbyterian enroll 1,605,015 names, a gain of 20,615 for the year.

The Protestant Episcopal show a gain of 31,341, and have a membership of 750,927.

The Congregationalists show a gain of 3,475, but total membership is not given.

The Disciples of Christ have an enrollment of 1,179,541, a gain of 40 per cent in 10 years.

The Dunkards increased 3,000. Evangelical 7,742, Reformed 8,019, United Brethren 1,072, Salvation Army 3,044.

There were employed 146,401 ministers and the total number of church buildings was 194,107.

While there has not been a rapid growth in church membership, the increase has more than kept pace with the increase in population.

The figures were compiled by Henry K. Carroll, the statistician, who had charge of the church census in 1890. They show that more than one third of the population are church communicants, and yet it is safe to say that less than one sixth of Janesville's population will see the inside of a church tomorrow. There are a good many brother-in-laws in the church, who don't work at it very much.

PRESS COMMENT.

Evening Wisconsin: Miss Stone will now "talk Turkey," but not to their friends. She will do it on the lecture platform, and thus again illustrate the value of publicity.

Chicago Tribune: Senator Billy Mason says he is making the fight for the Senatorship on his own hook. Which leads the esteemed Peoria Star to say that going it alone is Senator Billy's strong point, and that this is about the way he will fetch up. Sounds like a Senatorial indignity.

Record-Herald: Ex-Governor Hogg of Texas, has refused to wear knee breeches in order to be permitted to bow to King Edward. Mr. Hogg says he is afraid he wouldn't look well with his calves exposed, and people who have gazed upon his dimensions are likely to agree that his fear is well grounded.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The live newspaper aims to print all the news about "the different ways that different things are done." It is only by seeing in news columns the contrasted sunshine and shadow of human nature that worthy people are able to identify their own virtues and soberly enjoy them.

St Paul Globe: Five thousand dollars a kiss is a pretty stiff value to set on that commodity. If that Baraboo lady has any more to dispose of the might do worse than let down on her price a bit. Some kisses are dear at any price as doubtless thinks the man she is now suing.

Minneapolis Times: The Wisconsin woman who has sued for $15,000 that sum representing her estimate of the value of three separate and distinct kisses snatched from her pouting lips by a rude man with whom she was slightly acquainted, has undertaken what lawyers call the very difficult task of proving mental anguish and the pecuniary equivalent thereof.

POINTS ON TOBACCO GROWING.

Tobacco growing is a business requiring the most painstaking care and the best judgment. It should not be undertaken unless close and intelligent attention can be given it at every period of the crop's production. There are crises, neglect or lack of judgment at any of which will ruin the crop. The first consideration for the prospective grower is the climate of his particular district. Sections subject to heavy winds, hail, long drouth or early and late frosts, are hardly fit for growing tobacco.

Either of these phenomena may partially or wholly destroy a crop. The second consideration is soil. Successful tobacco growing calls for sandy loam, rather than for clay. The loam should be rich and black, with permeable sub-soil. Thorough drainage is necessary.

The tobacco of the North and West is exclusively cigar leaf. The varieties generally grown are Connecticut, Seedleaf, Connecticut Broadleaf, Cuban, Glessner, Lancaster Broadleaf, Vallandigham and Havana Seed. Although domesticated Cuban and Havana seed are grown most commonly, individual farmers have other favorites.

The most profitable variety, differing with different soils, must be determined by each grower through experiment. Seed of the varieties named may be bought of seedsmen and growers for from $1.00 to $2.25 per ounce. The seed is sown as soon in the spring as danger from frost is past. The beds, rich black loam containing plenty of sand and located on a warm, south slope, sheltered on the north and west by woods, are burnt, manured and plowed in the fall.

Short horse manure, well rotted, is applied then, and in the spring a very fine, very rich top dressing. The dressing is worked in as soon as the land is dry enough not to pack, care being taken not to reverse the soil. The beds are pulverized very finely to a depth of three inches and a tablespoonful of seed is then sown to every square rod. A bed ten yards square sets six acres, but does not allow for the selection of only the strongest plants.

To secure the necessary even sowing, growers mix the seed with corn meal or other substances that can be plainly seen on the ground. Danger of burying the seed too deeply makes rolling necessary instead of raking in. The compact surface left by heavy rolling or planting holds the moisture well. To get early plants, many growers sprout their seed before sowing. One method of sprouting is that of sprinkling seed on a damp cloth and covering with a woolen one.

The cloths, rolled together, are dipped in tepid water once a day and kept in a warm place. When a little white spot appears, it is time to sow the seed.

Careful growers prepare germinated rolls on different days in order to have one that is just right when seeding day comes. Another means of securing early and thrifty plants is a canvas cover for the seed bed. Success in tobacco growing, in fact, demands it. The canvas, stretched over a wooden frame four or five inches above the level of the seed bed, keeps the bed warm at night.

More important still, it prevents drying up and affords a thorough protection against the flea beetle. Like the seed bed, the tobacco field should be manured well and plowed in the fall. If the field has been neglected then the work should be done as early as possible in the spring. In addition to the deep fall plowing, the soil should receive a shallow summer plowing. The most successful growers haul thirty to forty loads of well rotted stable manure on each acre of ordinary land.

They either plow the manure under or pulverize it in after plowing. After the land becomes fit to work in the spring it is pulverized every week until planting time, when it is thoroughly dragged and rolled. Planting time in the North, coming much later than in the South, is from June 6th to the 20th.

The greatest care is necessary in removing plants from the seed bed, so that the rootlets may not be torn. The bed should be wet the evening loosened before drawn out. Clear leaf plants are set at intervals of 18 or 20 inches in rows of three and a half feet apart. The two horse planters now in use, setting and watering from three to six acres per day, do the work of only faster, but better than can be done by hand.

The method of planting by hand is very similar to the old way of setting cabbage and tomato plants, watering being an essential matter. After planting comes persistent cultivation. A half week after, the earth around each plant should be loosened with a hoe. In a week more a cultivator, set narrow and deep, ought to be at work.

The hoe is used to cut straw weeds, and the cultivator is run through five or six times more, care being an essential matter. After have the implement run shallow near the half matured plants, as there is danger of the roots being cut. A hill-er is used to great advantage in the last cultivations.

HOMEMADE DRESSES.

HOW TO MAKE A NATTY DRIVING OR WALKING COAT.

Directions For Cutting the Garment Without the Aid of a Purchased Pattern—Back to Be All in One Piece.

(Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.)

This coat can be buttoned in single breasted style or it can be made with a fly front. For the amateur dressmaker it would probably be easier to have buttons, as it requires great nicety to make the fly look just as it should. Pocket lids are set on for appearance only.

To cut this garment when no pattern is available, take a measure with a tape-line and a pencil and mark out the dimensions on a piece of rather stiff wrapping paper, beginning with the front. This is to be along the straight edge of the paper. The measure will be probably twenty inches from the throat to the bottom. Then measure three inches back from the front edges and extend the line to twenty-four inches in length from opposite the lower end of the first line. This line is even with the first at the bottom and four inches higher at the top. The top is sloped out, following the outline of crosses on the diagram, as it forms the neck. The length of the shoulder is measured and sloped to the figure, remembering that this particular coat has very square shoulders.

The under arm seams can be readily understood and measured to reach the bottom of the coat without making any departure from the straight line of the bottom.

The back is cut in one piece, the center coming just to the fold in the cloth.

The notch cut out in the front edges is to turn in to form the necessary strengthening for the buttons and buttonholes. The pointed part turns over for the revers when the collar is on.

The piece numbered 3 on the diagram is the facing for the fronts, and they also form the facing to the revers when the coat is finished.

Unless the coat is made with a fly front the notched piece along the front of the outside of the jacket is simply turned in and stitched with the lining or facing. Lining is used only for the wool fabrics. The seams to these are felled neatly, and the facing which forms the revers is the only doubled portion. The hems to the sleeves and the bottom of the washable coats are stitched several times around to give them solidity, and they do not require any stiffening beyond that.

The pattern has eleven pieces—viz, two fronts, one back, two facing and two collar pieces and two upper and two under sleeve pieces.

When the paper pattern is drafted, try it to the figure, and if it is right cut it along the chalk marks, being very careful that the nap runs down. The fronts are cut along the selvage and the back so that the fold comes directly in the center.

The facing is to be cut from the edge of the remaining piece, leaving the semicircular piece in the middle for the under part of the sleeves. The upper, facing, etc., will come out of the remainder. Cut a piece of linen canvas an inch narrower than the facing. Catsitch it to the facing and baste it to the outside on the wrong side. Then sew it, turn it and baste it very firmly. After this sew up the under arm parts and shoulders and press the seams apart with a hot iron.

The lining is to be sewed up in the same way and basted around the armhole and closely around the bottom, after which the hem is turned up and basted to the whole, outside and lining. The neck is then closely basted and the collar sewed to the outside, first pressed flat, and then hemmed down neatly to the lining. The collar is really cut in four pieces, the centers being first sewed, and to the under ones is quilted a piece of the canvas.

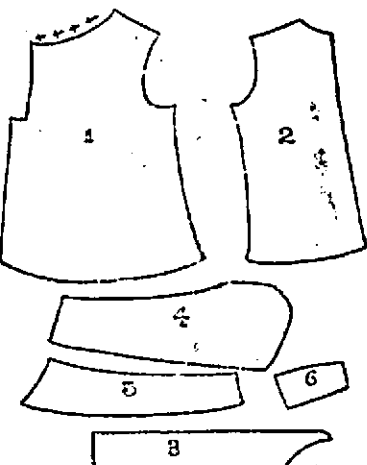

DIAGRAM FOR CUTTING COAT.

The outside is then put on and the whole stitched and felled down. When the collar is sewed fast, the all-around stitching is to be done.

The sleeves are to have the outside seams sewed and pressed and the lining basted firmly along. The hem, with a small canvas along the bottom to steady it, is sewed and stitched to match and the inner seams sewed and pressed and the slits lining felled down and all pressed. A little canvas around the armhole gives a square shape.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake Is Made By Many Jamesville Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidney ache.

You must cure the kidneys

A Jamesville resident tells you how this can be done:

Mrs. S. L. Boden, of 41 S. River St. says: "During two or three years I suffered most of the time with a terrible dragging down pain in my back just over the kidneys. It was very trying when I was at work, and if I did any lifting my bladder became affected, causing me considerable annoyance. I also had attacks of headaches, which seemed like congestion in the top and back of my head. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I did not have any too much confidence in them but my daughter got a box at the People's Drug Co's store and persuaded me to use them. They took right hold and made a wonderful change in my condition. I hardly realized how bad I was until Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the afflictions."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 60 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Also on sale at King's Pharmacy.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

SCHOOL OF CERAMICS

WHERE STUDENTS ARE GIVEN INSTRUCTION IN CLAYWORKING.

An Institution Established by the State of New York in Connection With Alfred University—Paralleling Practical Training in Plastic Art.

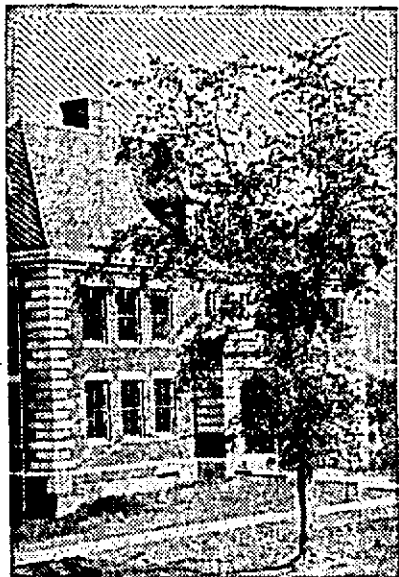

It was long ago recognized by the educators of Germany that each industrial calling demanded its own line of technical instruction. Even before the consolidation of the empire in 1871 technical schools abounded, and with the establishment of a central government came greater effort in the same direction, and the provincial schools became tributary to the great centers of industrial training.

Among the arts to which attention was directed that pertaining to clayworking became prominent. The researches of Dr. H. Seger brought to light many deep and perplexing questions. Manufacturers of all kinds of stoneware sought assistance in the solution of their problems, and a vast machine of ceramic education was set in motion.

America with characteristic "push" was the first of English speaking nations to take the matter up. The initiation of the movement was due to the persistent agitation of Professor Edward Orton, Jr., of Columbus, O., who in 1891 succeeded in establishing a ceramic department in the Ohio State university.

The success of the work in Ohio led to a demand for trained clayworkers, and in 1900 the legislature of New York state passed a law establishing a state school of clayworking and ceramics. The provisions of the act of legislature were speedily carried out and the school was established at Alfred, in Allegany county, with Professor Charles F. Blum, M. S. C., as director and in connection with Alfred university, an institution founded in 1836, well equipped with modern appliances and apparatus, to all of which the state school students have full access.

For the work of the school of ceramics a special building was necessary, and a plot of ground was purchased and devoted to the people of the state of New York, upon which has been erected a structure at once artistic and well adapted to its purposes. It is 75 by 40 feet and is built of local red brick, with limestone trimmings. The roof is of tile, also made in the locality.

The equipment is very superior and the facilities for research and experiment are unsurpassed, provision being made for every branch of the industry.

The main entrance to the building is on the upper side of a slope, so that the basement has an opening upon the level in the rear. On the principal floor are the executive offices, recitation room and library, technical laboratory and a museum. In the laboratory are a series of light machines for grinding purposes and small furnaces for fusion work. Here the many and complex experiments of all branches of the industry are planned and carried out.

On the second floor is the art department. Art is many sided as applied to pottery. Every requirement is considered. The planning of machinery and kilns, the design and construction of artistic terra cotta, the shaping and decoration of dishes and the design and elaboration of fine faience and porcelain offer unlimited scope for artistic and mechanical genius.

Beginning with elementary drawing, both free hand and mechanical, the student is led to study the principles of design and eventually become capable of both conception and execution.

Descending to the basement, the visitor is impressed with the number and variety of machines in use. Two gas engines supply the power; one of thirty-six horsepower drives the large machines, and a small one of two horsepower runs the light grinding apparatus. The machinery for brick and tile manufacture comprises a dry pan or crusher, a pug mill or mixer and a brick machine and cutting table. A screw press supplies the means of making repressed brick and dry pressed tile.

The school opened with preliminary work in the fall of 1900, before the completion of the building several students presenting themselves for instruction.

When the school reopened in September, 1901, eighteen students were enrolled, five being young women who desired to study the higher branches of ceramic art. This is considered a highly satisfactory number and gives evidence of the fact that technical education upon these lines is in demand.

BUREAU OF CRIMINOLOGY.

National Rogues' Gallery Being Established at Washington.

The city of Washington will soon have a most comprehensive bureau of criminology. Major Richard Sylvester, superintendent of police at the national capital, has established a national rogues' gallery, in which he aims to place photographs and Bertillon measurements of every known criminal in the United States and Canada.

The purpose of this immense rogues' gallery is to create a community of interest among the police of America and to establish a head office, where information may be had concerning any rogue. Under the present system inquiries are made to the chiefs of police of all the principal cities, necessitating a great amount of futile correspondence.

In response to Major Sylvester's appeal fifty-two cities of the United States and Canada are contributing to the plan. It is hoped the bureau will eventually become a government institution.

The walls of Major Sylvester's bureau are lined with cabinets filled with thousands of cards, each bearing on its face two photographs of a criminal, one full face and the other profile. On the same side are given the measurements, age and physical characteristics. On the other side are given the name, residence, crime, marks, scars, moles and other defects or abnormalities. In short, these cards make up the Bertillon catalogue used in all modern police departments.

When information is desired from Washington regarding some criminal, his name, aliases, head, finger, ear and other measurements are sent in. It is the measurements that most readily lend to finding the card. Names don't count for much. The cards are arranged in three groups, according to size of head. The superintendent then turns to the group containing the size of head named and if the criminal's card is in the cabinet can soon furnish the desired information.

When the bureau is complete, it will be hard for any criminal of record to escape identification. Plans for the extension of the system to Europe are now being discussed.

SOUSA TURNS NOVELIST.

Famous Bandmaster Is the Author of a Romantic Story.

Those to whom the name of John Philip Sousa is familiar—and they are legion—usually associate it with some popular musical composition or as the director of the famous band of which he has been so long the central figure. But Mr. Sousa has other claims to fame. It is in the field of literature, Mr. Sousa has just published a romantic love story, "The Fifth String."

Mr. Sousa's place in the musical world is, however, second to none. As the composer of "Liberty Bell," "Washington Post," "High School Cadets" and other marches he is known in every city and town in the land.

John Philip Sousa is about forty-eight years of age and made his first success as the musical director of the United States Marine band. For twelve years he filled that position, during which time the band gained a world-wide reputation. He left the Marine band in 1892 to take charge of the present organization, known as Sousa's band, which has had phenomenal success, both in this country and Europe.

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you Eat

Dyspeptics cannot regain health and strength by living upon half rations. They must eat plenty of good food and digest it. To enable them to do this they should use something that will help the stomach do its work. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is such a preparation. It digests what you eat and supplies the substances needed to build up the worn out digestive organs.

Prof. J. Iverson, of Lonsconing, Md., says: "For thirteen years I suffered agony from dyspepsia and neuralgia of the stomach. I tried almost everything and doctors drugged me nearly to death with morphine, but temporary relief was all I could obtain till I was advised to use KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE. The first dose gave me relief. I bought my first bottle in March, 1900, and I have not had a single pain since. It has completely cured me. I cannot endorse it too highly."

NEW INDUSTRY FOR BOWER CITY

GRAVEL CRUSHING PLANT ON THE WHEELER FARM.

Wm. J. Shedd, Manager of Knickerbocker Ice Company of Chicago, Making Arrangements to Start Up the Plant, Which Will Cost $30,000—Description of the Process.

Wm. J. Shedd of Chicago, manager of the Knickerbocker Ice company was in the city yesterday making arrangements for the operation of their gravel crushing plant on the Wheeler farm just outside of the city limits, on the line of the Janesville & Southeastern railroad.

The company already have the artesian wells and a large amount of heavy crushing machinery, engines and pumps have been purchased and are on their way to their plant.

The plant when completed will cost about thirty thousand dollars and will have a capacity of from twenty-five to thirty carloads of crushed gravel daily. The crushed gravel such as will be turned out by this plant is in great demand just at present. It is used in the manufacture of concrete for the foundations of large buildings and also for abutments and culverts for railroads.

The gravel is first taken from the sand pits and washed by water from the artesian wells, which removes all the sand and fine stuff. It is then carried on to the crusher where it is broken into a certain size, and from the crusher is dumped into the cars on the siding.

The St. Paul company already have plans for several side tracks at the plant to take care of the cars to be used in the work. A boarding house for the men will be built at once and everything for their convenience has been arranged. The company have twenty acres of gravel pit and the St. Paul company have seventeen more that the Knickerbocker company have a contract to use from. This gravel pit is one of the finest pits for this business in the state. There is a large percentage of good sized gravel especially adapted to making the crushed gravel needed in concrete work.

The company expects to have everything in running order for turning out the crushed gravel by May 1. They will then employ about 150 hands at the pit, the most of whom will be hired from this city if they can get them.

Mr. Shedd says that his is no experiment and that he company had it all figured out before they went into it. They now have contracts for furnishing the crushed stone for the concrete work in a number of large buildings in Chicago and also considerable for the railroad companies.

Work on the plant is now being carried on and there is a demand for a large number of laboring men at the present time. While not much surplus has been made about this plant, it will furnish steady employment at good wages to a large number of men as it is a man's work exclusively and means a good sized pay roll that will be spent in this city.

SUGAR BEET MEN FORCE THE ISSUE

Insist That Western Farmers
Shall Be Told Where They Stand.

WILL NOT TALK COMPROMISE

Claim That Majority of House Members
Favor the Beetmen and That a Vote
Must Be Taken Now—Porto Rico
Asks Aid for Its Coffee.

Washington, March 8.—"No quarter! No compromise!" was the motto painted upon the banners of the sugar beet forces. A conference, attended by forty representatives from sugar beet districts, held behind closed doors and under a pledge of secrecy, fully considered the Cuban situation. Representative Fordney of Michigan presented a list of 122 out of the 200 Republican members of the house whom he had seen personally, and who had pledged themselves to stand solidly against Cuban reciprocity.

Emboldened by their strength, these leaders decided not to talk or even consider compromise, but to continue the fight to a decision. Propositions involving delay will not be acceptable. They will vote against postponing the question until next session. They insist that it shall be disposed of now. The members of the ways and means committee who are supporting the president's recommendations circulated industriously among the opposition, vainly seeking a compromise. Representative Dalzell, who punctured the bounty proposition as unconstitutional, acting in behalf of his colleagues on the ways and means committee, approached Representative Fordney of Michigan as one of the leaders of the opposition with a pledge that if a concession of 20 per cent should be agreed upon, the cut would not be increased in the senate. Mr. Dalzell was told that his suggestion could not be entertained for one minute.

Opponents of reciprocity say the farmers want to know before the opening of spring whether Cuban sugar is to receive any concessions that will injure the sugar beet industry, so that they may be guided in planting. If there is to be a cut in duty that will materially affect the price of sugar beets they will not raise another crop. The decision of the Brussels conference abolishing bounties on beet sugar is a double-edged sword. In the hands of the leaders of the ways and means committee it is being used to emphasize the healthy condition of the beet industry, which they say has been reduced to a profitable basis that will permit competition without the aid of a bounty. The opponents of Cuban reciprocity use the conference as demonstrating that the sugar industry the world over is profitable without a bounty.

There is no probability that the house Republicans who favor the president's recommendations will urge Cuban reciprocity upon the floor and obtain its adoption with the aid of Democratic votes. It is well agreed among Republicans that the problem is among themselves and that party policy require a solution in conference.

Delays in Congress.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—On account of the indisposition of Mr. Vest of Missouri and Mr. Mallory of Florida, who expected to speak on the pending ship subsidy bill, that measure was not considered by the Senate Friday. The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was passed, and then the Senate took up the measure for the protection of the President of the United States. Mr. Bacon of Georgia continued his speech in opposition to the bill, making an extended constitutional argument against it. The Senate agreed to make the bill the unfinished business at the conclusion of consideration of the ship subsidy bill.

The bill to classify the rural free delivery service and to place the carriers under the contract system held the floor in the House. By an arrangement the bill will be considered under the five-minute rule Monday.

Invitation to France

Washington, March 8.—Representative Hitt introduced a resolution authorizing the President to extend to the government and people of France and the family of General Rochambeau, commander-in-chief of the French forces in America during the war of independence, a cordial invitation to unite with the government and people of the United States in a fit and appropriate dedication of the monument of General Rochambeau to be unveiled in Washington on May 24. An appropriation of $10,000 is proposed to defray the expenses incurred on this occasion.

Census Bill Signed

Washington, March 8.—President Roosevelt has signed the bill creating a permanent census bureau. In a letter to the Secretary of the Interior

He orders that the director of the census shall be notified that his office will continue to be administered as at present until July 1. On that date he is to appoint such members of the present force under him as will constitute the permanent census force, choosing only so many as are to be permanently employed. After that date all appointments will be made under the regulations of the civil service act.

May Name Ch. E. Carr.
Washington, March 8.—It was reported that Clark E. Carr of Galesburg, Ill., who was United States Minister to Denmark, would be appointed governor of the Danish West Indies. Senator Cullom stated that he is not aware Colonel Carr is a candidate, and is positive that the President has not selected him. It will not be necessary to send a governor to the islands for some time, as the treaty has not been ratified by Denmark and numerous preliminaries must be disposed of before the United States will take possession.

Porto Ricans Want Bounty.
Washington, March 8.—The talk of a bounty for Cuban sugar has encouraged the Porto Ricans to ask for a bounty of 5 cents a pound upon coffee. A memorial was presented in the House of Representatives reciting that Porto Rico is entitled to the same consideration as the States of the Union; that the coffee growing industry was formerly the chief material resources of the island and the island is now suffering because the planters are cut off from the markets of Europe by the change of sovereignty.

Ask Postoffice for Springfield.
Washington, March 8.—Former Representative Connelly, Comptroller Ridgely, and a number of other Illinoisans appeared before the House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds to urge an appropriation of $150,000 for extending and improving the postoffice at Springfield. They told the committee how much this extension and improvement was needed and made strong and telling arguments.

Washington Notes.
Washington, March 8.—Secretary Root has ordered Governor Wood at Havana to come to this city at his earliest convenience for the purpose of conferring with the President and the Secretary of War in regard to the necessary steps to be taken for winding up the affairs of the military government in Cuba and the establishment of the Cuban Republic.

The House committee on territories decided to report the bill giving the Indian Territory a territorial form of government to be known as the Territory of Jefferson, with a legislature similar to the other territories, a governor and a delegate to Congress.

Harvey S. Sheldon of Chicago will probably be appointed consul at St. Thomas, Ontario, to succeed Michael J. Burke.

At the Cabinet meeting President Roosevelt requested the members not to talk to newspaper correspondents about matters under discussion at the semi-weekly meetings. It was thought best for the President himself to make public such matters as he deemed proper to be given out.

The Navy Department has transferred to the military authorities in Havana the navy yard, station, and Admiralty Building at Havana, formerly belonging to the Spanish government.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in company with the President, formally received the new Chilean minister, Senor Don Joaquin Walker-Martinez, and Senora Walker-Martinez at the White House.

Fort Des Moines.

Omaha, March 8.—In accordance with orders received at the headquarters of the Department of the Missouri, the new fort at Des Moines will be known as "Fort Des Moines." The christening is made at the direction of President Roosevelt, who says it is for the purpose of perpetuating the name of the original military post established on May 20, 1813, at the junction of the Des Moines and Raccoon rivers by Captain James Allen's company of the First Dragoons and Captain J. R. B. Gardener's company of the First Infantry, around which grew the settlement of which the City of Des Moines is the development.

Strike Big Oil Gusher.

Nashville, Tenn., March 8.—Governor Benton McMinn received a telegram from the general manager of the Huntley Oil company, of which he is a director, stating that the company had struck the McMinn gusher, producing at the rate of 70,000 barrels daily. Among those interested with Governor McMinn are Charles A. Towne and Congressman Cooper of the Beaumont district.

Health Resort for Soldiers.

Omaha, Neb., March 8.—A health resort for invalid soldiers of the regular army is to be established at Fort Niobrara and maintained for some time. The crowded condition of the medical quarters at the Presidio Barracks at San Francisco has made it necessary to provide additional invalid quarters.

To Create New Territory.

Washington, D. C., March 8.—The House committee on territories decided to report the bill giving the Indian territory a territorial form of government, to be known as the Territory of Jefferson, with a legislature similar to the other territories, a governor and a delegate in Congress.

BAD WEATHER UPSETS TRADE

Business Conditions are Seriously Affected by the Floods.

IRON COMMANDS A PREMIUM.

Merchants Continue to Make Preparations for the Spring—Much Uneasiness
Felt Regarding Labor at the Factories and Coal Mines.

New York, March 8.—"Unsettled weather has been the most unsatisfactory feature of the business situation. A sudden thaw following an exceptionally heavy snowfall produced freshets and floods. Manufacturing and transporting interests suffered severely, and consumers were urgent for shipment of delayed goods, while great quantities of merchandise became stalled in transit. Preparations for an enormous spring trade continue unimpaired. There is still some uneasiness regarding the labor situation at the coal mines, and at Fall River there is a disagreement as to the length of a cut of cloth, although increased wages are assured," according to R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade. Continuing the report says:

"Not only is there no improvement to be recorded in the iron and steel outlook, but floods in the Pittsburgh region added to the pressure by completely closing many plants and damaging much costly machinery. Supplies of coke failed to increase, because the railways were badly disorganized and the net result was a week of light output when requirements were notably heavy.

"Recent destruction by the elements makes an unusual demand for structural material, and on spot business buyers gladly pay premiums of $6 a ton above list prices. Coal shipments have been curtailed to such an extent that dealers' supplies are low and quotations very strong.

"Nothing new has developed in the footwear industry. Eastern shops are still working on old contracts, but buyers are delaying the placing of fall business in expectation of securing more satisfactory terms. Leather is weaker and hides declined another fraction.

"Cotton goods are well sustained, the stronger raw material giving all the advantage to sellers, but there is much uncertainty as to the labor situation.

"It was natural for grain to hold firm when wheat receipts at the West were 2,899,341 bushels, compared with 3,747,952 last year, while arrivals of corn were but 2,001,914 bushels, against 5,020,433 a year ago. Exports of wheat, flour included, were 4,174,894 bushels, against 3,165,032 in the previous week and 3,715,920 a year ago. Atlantic exports of corn, 317,904 bushels, against 3,357,438.

"Failures of the week numbered 175 in the United States, against 208 last year, and seventeen in Canada, against twenty-six last year."

Pittsburg District Miners' Scale.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 8.—There will be no strike of the coal miners in the Pittsburg district this year. The operators of the district and the miners concluded their conferences on the local scale by adopting the scale of last year, practically in its entirety. The only changes made in the scale were technical in nature and of no general effect. The 50,000 or more miners of this district will, by this agreement, continue at work without conflict.

Burglars Wreck Bank.

Nemaha, Neb., March 8.—Burglars wrecked the State Bank of Nemaha with dynamite, but were frightened away before they secured any plunder. Citizens were aroused by two explosions, and gathered at the bank, but the men had made their escape on a hand car. The outer door of the safe was blown off, and the building was considerably damaged. Bloodhounds have been put on the track of the robbers.

Bank Robbers Failed.

Liberty Center, O., March 8.—Over 100 shots were exchanged between the citizens of this place and a gang of robbers that were attempting to loot the Citizens' National bank. When the robbers were discovered, a watchman gave the alarm, so that many citizens were called out, but not before the robbers learned of the situation and escaped. No one was hurt, as the shooting was at long range.

Plot in Austrian Parliament.

Budapest, March 8.—Proceedings in the lower house here became so turbulent that the session had to be closed. The Kossuthists rebelled against the quashing of the election of one of their deputies, and their passionate denunciation filled the house, preventing the premier, Coleman de Szell from speaking.

Fire Loss of $200,000.

Hudson, N. Y., March 8.—Fire burned the buildings and stock of Dorschheim & Co., dry goods dealers; W. A. Van Tassel, druggist; R. Gray's Sons, furniture; Sheldon & Co., dry goods and fash, men's furnishing dealer. The loss may reach $200,000.

MARCH MAGAZINES.

The March number of the Ladies' Home Journal is an admirable example of real "home" magazine. From the beautiful cover, by Mr. W. L. Taylor, to the very last page it is replete with delightful fiction and interesting articles. The number opens with the new story of "The Sexton Who Ruled New York Society," by William Ferrine, and then comes a real treat another "Lady or the Tiger" story, by the same Stockton who gave us that remarkable tale of mystery. This one is called "My Balloon Hunt." Nellie Blanchard begins a series of unusual articles about birds and their "personality," and "The Domain" tells an amusing story of his journeys in Europe with two companions. Then there is the second installment of Miss Porter's "Those Days in Old Virginia," and a page of pictures of "Pretty Country Homes from $400 to $2,200." "His Mother" is a touching story by Kate Whiting Patch, and the fourth part of "Russells in Chicago" shows us some more of the old customs and characteristics of the "Wind City." Mr. Bok's editorial is written under the title "She Dares!" and deals fearlessly with the woman who is afraid to come out and do things as she thinks they should be done.

The Pilgrim for March offers a very variegated list of articles. In fiction besides the three chapters of Henry Sutton Merriman's story, "The Velvet Glove" now approaching completion, there are two striking short stories, "An Anthropological Experience," a humorous fantasy by W. A. Curtis, and "At Crow Wing Station" by Ethelbert Waldron. The latter story, aside from its quality as a bit of literary work, is of interest, since it is the result of an offer to students of the University of Michigan of a prize for the best short story, written by an undergraduate. It may be noted, in this connection, that The Pilgrim, being published in Battle Creek, Mich., has manifested a notable interest in the great University, which is maintained in its neighborhood. Besides awarding this prize, The Pilgrim has established a scholarship in the University, the funds of which are to be devoted to defraying the expenses of a student who takes as his specialty the study of methods of teaching English.

The March number of the Woman's Home Companion opens with a charming description of "The Coming of Spring," by Ernest Harold Baynes. "Wireless Telegraphy" is explained by an expert; and another timely article deals with "The First President of the Cuban Republic," the paper on "Courtship and Marriage Customs in Many Lands" treats of the queer ceremonies of the Hindu and Parsee. There is a thrilling installment of "Deeds of Heroism of Women in the Civil War." The fiction includes stories by Clinton Ross, Will Payne and Mary Tracy Earle. A new feature is "Thummal Editorials" by famous women. There is an article on the new game, Pingpong; there are stories for children, and many pages of Easter fashions. Published by The Crowell & Kirkpatrick Co., Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy; sample copy free.

Early Map of America.

What is said to be one of the earliest known maps of America has been discovered in the library of Wolfegg castle, which belongs to Prince Von Waldburg-Wolfegg. The map was drawn in 1507 by Martin Waldsee Muller, by whom America is said to have been named after the explorer Amerigo Vesputi.

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of childbirth. Mother's Friend is a liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. If a woman is supplied with this splendid liniment she need never fear rising or swelling breasts, morning sickness, or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy.

The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy, Mother's Friend was used and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."

A Versatile Genius.
A Laredo, Tex., business man has issued a circular in the form of a typewritten letter which shows him to be a versatile man and a humorist. He advertises himself as proprietor of a "hotel, annex, sample-room, restaurant, fish hatchery, gas plant, chicken farm, saloon, lunch room, billiard hall," etc. At the head of the sheet appears the line, "Me-an-the-Old-Woman, Sole Proprietors." On either side of this line are pictures; under one is the caption, "This Is Me," and under the other, "This Is the Old Woman."

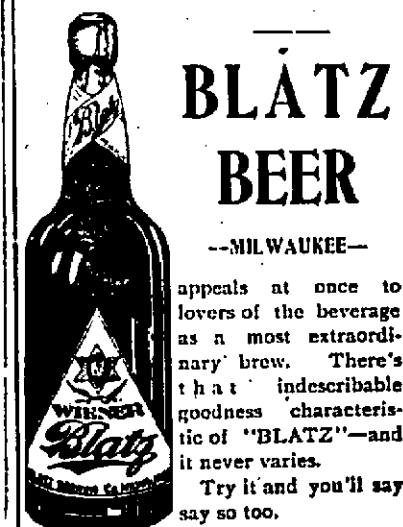

Couldn't Escape Collection Plate.

Rev. Father McGuire, pastor of a Roman Catholic church in Long Island City, finding that a number of persons habitually left the church after mass and just before the collection was taken up, caused the doors of the edifice to be locked last Sunday until service was over, and more than twenty people who tried to escape before the plate came around were conspicuously unable to do so.

Ontario's bounty on Wolves.

In the province of Ontario a bounty of $10 is paid for each wolf killed. The procedure to be followed in making application for the bounty is to go before a justice of the peace and make an affidavit setting forth the facts of your claim, the number of wolves killed, the time and place of killing. You get a certificate from the justice upon presenting the certificate to the treasurer of the county, the bounty will be paid.

From Infancy to Age

Laxakola for Babies.—It is the best and most effective laxative for children. BEST because it is safe and made entirely of harmless ingredients. BEST because it is non-irritating and never causes pain or irritation. BEST because it is sure and never fails. BEST because "Children like it and ask for it." BEST because its tonic properties are so good and so strengthening that it keeps the little ones in fine, hearty condition.

It is a dangerous thing to give little babies violent cathartics that rack and rend their little bodies. DON'T DO IT—give them Laxakola. For constipation, coated tongue, simple colds and fevers it is invaluable.

Laxakola for Young Girls.—On the threshold of womanhood, has been found invaluable. When they become pale and languid, the eyes dull, aching head, feet and hands cold, appetite gone or abnormal, and their systems generally run down, they need building up, and their blood needs cleansing. Give them Laxakola, its gentle bowel action to cleanse and its tonic properties to build up the system, will show immediate and most beneficial results.

Laxakola for Mothers.—It is particularly valuable and useful to women, especially mothers, as it is a gentle and safe remedy to use during all conditions of health whenever their peculiar and delicate constitutions require a mild and efficient laxative and tonic, while to nursing mothers, worn out with the care of infants and whose systems are particularly susceptible to disease Laxakola particularly appeals.

It clears the complexion, brightens the eye, sharpens the appetite, removes muddy and blotched condition of the skin and cures sick headache to a certainty by removing the cause.

To women suffering from chronic constipation, headaches, biliousness, dizziness, softness of the skin and dyspepsia, Laxakola will invariably bring relief.

Laxakola for Old Folks.—In the Autumn and Winter of life, when the various organs through long years of action have become more or less sluggish, it becomes necessary to stimulate them by some remedy best adapted to that purpose. That Laxakola is such, has been proved beyond all question. Its gentle warming, soothing action on the bowels, liver and kidneys, stimulates them to increased activity, cleanses the blood, quickens the circulation, and puts the whole system in a condition of health and enables it to ward off disease, while its tonic properties tone up the system and keep it healthy.

Laxakola Does It.

Laxakola is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical because it contains two medicines for one price, tonic and laxative. No other remedy gives so much for the money. All druggists, 25c and 50c, or free sample of THE LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau St., N. Y., or 250 Dearborn St., Chicago.

VERNAL EQUINOX OCCURS MARCH 21

The Astronomical Spring Begins on That Date - Ecliptic and Equator Cross Each Other.

March has a gift peculiarly its own that will rejoice the hearts of dwellers in the north temperate zone. When March rules the year, the vernal equinox occurs, the astronomical spring begins, the gates of the charming season open for the procession of the flowers and the incoming of vernal delights. Its harbingers are warbling birds, a tangled spray of arbutus, a snowdrop peeping through a snowdrift, or a crocus raising its gay blossoms from the saucy earth. Snow and ice may prevail for a time, but the resurrection of nature has begun, warmer sunshine will follow and gentler breezes will invite life in the open air.

The vernal equinox occurs on Mar. 21, when the sun enters the sign of Aries, Ecliptic and equator cross each other, the days and nights are of nearly equal length, and the north polar bear smiles as he rouses from his long six months sleep and thinks of the possibilities of the next six months in the way of delectable morsels of food to appease his terrible hunger.

It would naturally be inferred that the crossing of ecliptic and equator would take place at the same point every year. This is not the case. This crossing point moves westward by a small amount every year, and the term applied is the procession of the equinoxes. The cause producing this also counts for changes in the position of the polar star.

The earth, instead of moving quietly in space, is pulled hither and thither by many conflicting forces having at least half a dozen different movements. Besides whirling on her orbit nineteen miles a second and carrying the dwellers on the equator 1,000 miles an hour as she revolves on her axis. Her translation in space is the most marvelous of all.

The sun, with his planets, moons, asteroids, meteors, and comets is moving towards Hercules, known as the apex of the sun's way, at the rate of 20,000 miles an hour. Stars are opening before him as he advances and closing behind him as he recedes. The reason the change is not perceptible is because the lifetime of an observer is of no account in a journey where a million years are required for the sun and his brilliant cortege to reach the confines of the constellation whither they are bound.

ABOUT CATARRH CURES.

The Reason Why Inhalers and Local Applications are Useless.

For many years catarrh was considered a local disease and was treated entirely by local remedies, salves, ointments, powders, sprays and inhalers, and nearly all of these gave a temporary relief, but a genuine permanent cure was very rare.

It is true the most annoying symptoms, like stoppage of the nose and throat trouble, are purely local, but they are simply symptoms and the real seat of disease is far removed.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease, a blood disorder, complicated usually with disease of the liver and to suppose that local applications of sprays, powders, inhalers, could ever reach the real cause of the trouble is ridiculous.

The sensible and successful treatment is to remove the catarrhal poison from the system by regulating the liver and purifying the blood, and this can only be done by an internal remedy, which should consist of antiseptics and remedies to act vigorously on the blood and liver.

The best preparation of this kind which fills all the requirements of a safe constitutional treatment is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, composed of Blood Root, Red Gum and similar wholesome antiseptics which are absolutely safe to take into the stomach and which act upon the liver, stomach and mucous membrane.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges to be slowly dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching the mucous membrane and windpipe and finally reaching the stomach.

Dr. Edmondson, in speaking of the new treatment for catarrh, says: "I have accomplished the most satisfactory results in all forms of catarrh of the head, throat, bronchial tubes, as well as catarrh of the stomach and liver by using nothing else but Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. I long since threw aside sprays and inhalers as being inconvenient and at the best mere temporary make-shifts."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets act immediately upon the liver and blood and clear the whole system of catarrhal poison. They are pleasant and very convenient to use, and they are not only the latest, but I believe them to be the best and certainly the safest treatment for any form of catarrh."

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package. A little book on cause and cure of Catarrh mailed free by addressing the F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Miss Foraker in a Runaway.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—Miss Ethel Foraker, daughter of United States Senator Foraker of Ohio, had a thrilling experience at French Lick Springs with an unmanageable horse. She and Miss Katherine Maitland of Michigan were horseback riding when Miss Foraker's animal became frightened and ran for over three miles. At a turn of the road Miss Foraker's horse vaulted the fence, and continuing across the open field leaped a small brook. There he became mired in the soft earth, and Miss Foraker succeeded in holding him in check till her friends arrived.

Seek Relief!

The great proportion of women who suffer never make a serious effort to benefit themselves. The most of them go on paying no attention to their little menstrual disorders, believing they will eventually wear off. They grow worse and worse every day. At the period of menstruation a woman is peculiarly susceptible to cold and other external influences and it is also the most favorable time for the development of hidden disease germs which may be lurking in the system. Any physician knows that disordered menstruation, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea are blighting lives in almost every home. No woman should neglect herself a moment after she sees indications of female diseases. Almost instant relief can be secured by the use of

WINE OF CARDUI

It will relieve you right in your own home. Will you accept the testimony of Mrs. Beigler and thousands of other women and really seek relief today? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

100 Chicago Street, Fort Wayne, Ind., March 27, 1900.

Your Wine of Cardui has done a world of good for me. I have used two bottles of the Wine and one package of Theobald's Black-Draught. And since I have started to use it I will not be without it in the house. It helped my sister in Toledo, who did not menstruate as she ought. She was sixteen years of age and nothing else helped her. I was in a very bad state myself before I used your medicines, but I found relief in three days. And now I feel like a new woman and do all my housework and washing, which I could not do before I took Wine of Cardui. I would be very glad to write any poor woman and tell her how I suffered before I used Wine of Cardui.
